Job Corps (St. Louis)  www.stlouisjobcorps.com
Job Corps is a no-cost education and career technical training program administered by the U.S. Department of Labor that helps young people ages 16 through 24 improve the quality of their lives through career technical and academic training. Students who don’t already have a high school diploma or GED may enroll in these programs upon their arrival to St. Louis Job Corps. Students may also start their college education via partnerships with St. Louis Community College, University of Missouri at St. Louis and Harris Stowe State University.

Missouri Division of Vocational Rehabilitation  desemo.gov/vr/vocrehab.htm
If you want to work but have a disability that keeps you from finding or keeping a job, Vocational Rehabilitation (VR) may be able to help you. To be eligible, you need to have a physical or mental impairment that causes problems with working and need VR services to be successfully employed. Once eligible, you will work with a counselor who will help you develop a plan for your rehabilitation. Some of the services that may be available are: guidance and counseling, job-seeking skills and job placement, and vocational training. VR also provides assistance with transition services, supported employment services, assistance technology services and the ticket to work program.
